Goldenfields Water first in state to turn on MyH2O for its customers

6 March 2017

Goldenfields Water has become the first NSW water utility to give its almost 11,000 customers in Bland, Coolamon, Junee, Temora, Cootamundra-Gundagai and Narrandera access to MyH2O.

A free, online and easy-to-use service, MyH2O lets Goldenfields Water customers keep a close eye on their water use and bills.

"Farmers, residents, businesses, schools and others can monitor their daily water consumption and find ways to save this vital resource," General Manager Phillip Rudd said.

"Our customers can also watch how much their daily water use is costing and look for ways to reduce their bills.

"Personal water consumption targets can be set up with email and SMS alerts to warn customers if their targets have been or are likely to be exceeded.

"We are very keen to see our rural and residential customers take advantage of MyH2O given they use around 90 per cent of the drinking water we supply," he said.

Goldenfields Water customers can register now to use the new service by visiting www.myh2o.gwcc.nsw.gov.au and completing a few simple sign-up steps.

"MyH2O is a great example of how Goldenfields Water is leading the way with the use of new technology to deliver better services for our customers," Mr Rudd added.

"The availability of water can make or break our region, which is why it's important we put the tools in our customers hands that help them better control their water use."

MyH2O is available to those customers in the local government areas of Bland, Coolamon, Junee, Temora, and parts of Cootamundra-Gundagai and Narrandera that Goldenfields Water supplies water to directly.
